

National Status: Unlisted, Extinct in Wild, Archaeophyte

S Hants: Extinct (except as Infrequent casual)

Archaeophyte

Now only as a reintroduction in ‘wild flower mixes’, when it is usually not persistent. As an arable weed there are records from the 1930s near Broughton (SU33B), Shawford (SU42S) and near Oxenbourne Down (SU71E), and from the 1940s from near Winkton (SU19S) and Burton (SU19X).

N Hants: Infrequent as a casual

Archaeophyte

Introduced at some sites and increasingly being sown by local councils and surprisingly even by farmers in Higher Level Environmental Stewardship agreements. Thought to have arisen from long-buried seed at Magdalen Hill Down in c.1998, but despite some earlier encouragement by re-sowing its seed, it seems unlikely to persist there much longer. Additional records since the publication of the Hampshire Rare Plant Register book in 2011 have demoted this species to Infrequent and those extra records were all the result of deliberate sowing of seed.
